Contents

2.4 Additional Information.....2

Sensitive and commercially protected information.....2

Consent to publication.....2

Holiday periods and lead-time impact.....2

Current corporate assurance position.....2

2.4 Additional Information

Tender Question: If any information supplied is sensitive, outline it in the attached document. Confirm consent to publish the resulting Contract and identify holiday periods that may affect lead times.

Scoring Focus: Information-only response. Keep the position clear and consistent with the technical and commercial submission.

Sensitive and commercially protected information

Pulse Fitness considers detailed commercial pricing, underlying stock exports, personal engineer records, security and access information, proprietary controlled-process documentation and customer-specific operational data to be commercially sensitive. The evaluator-facing responses provide the information required for assessment without unnecessarily disclosing source-system detail, private addresses or individual personnel records.

Where supporting material must be disclosed for clarification, audit or mobilisation, Pulse Fitness will provide the relevant record through an appropriate controlled route and will identify any confidentiality, personal-data or security handling requirement at the point of issue.

Consent to publication

Pulse Fitness consents to publication of the resulting Contract, subject to the lawful redaction of commercially sensitive information, personal data, security-sensitive material and any information protected by the Contract or applicable legislation.

Holiday periods and lead-time impact

Pulse Fitness does not anticipate a routine UK holiday shutdown that will alter the contracted service lead times. Head Office and field coverage are planned around bank holidays and annual leave through regional overlap, national deployment and controlled diary allocation. A holiday period will not be treated as a blanket suspension of the contracted response.

For overseas activity, each quotation and programme will identify any destination-specific public holiday, restricted-access period, carrier closure or local shutdown before the order is accepted. Remote triage and customer communication will continue where practical, and the impact will be incorporated into the scheduled timeframe supplied within five working days.

Current corporate assurance position

Pulse Fitness enters the agreement with established quality, environmental, cyber, defence-supply-chain and governance evidence. Only the current, non-duplicate certificates and policies need to be uploaded; the detailed source records remain available for clarification and audit.

Assurance item	Current evidence
ISO 9001:2015	Certificate 220887; covers design, procurement, assembly, supply, installation, service and maintenance; valid to 2 January 2028.
ISO 14001:2015	Certificate 220287; corresponding environmental scope; valid to 2 January 2028.
Cyber Essentials	Whole-organisation certification dated 25 September 2025; recertification due 25 September 2026.
JOSCAR	Pulse Fitness Limited fully registered; renewal date 13 May 2027.

2.4 Additional Information

Modern Slavery	Signed Managing Director policy statement dated 3 February 2026 and published online.
Carbon Reduction Plan	Net Zero 2050 commitment and current footprint of 496.10 tCO2e; confirmed suitable.
Insurance	Employers, public/products and professional indemnity evidence current for the tender period.
Risk register	Completed LSL/DC/0223 register with headers, controls, owners, residual ratings and status.
ECC Services	Completed service-performer and movement classification return.

FINAL POSITION: Pulse Fitness is able to consent to publication, protect genuinely sensitive information and maintain UK service continuity through normal holiday periods. Overseas scheduling will identify destination-specific restrictions before the delivery programme is committed.

pulsefitness